today it will find the congressional recount committee with thirteen precincts still to be counted and Beiknap two votes ahead on the county. As the result of yesterday's count Beiknap gained thirteen votes net.

In the second precinct of the sixth ward the votes in the box were fourteen less than the number on the poll list and the inspector was sent for. He came in with the votes in his inside pocket and pisced them in charge of the county clerk and will file the necessary seorn statement. In the second precinct of the seventh ward a badiy turn vote came to light. Mr. Goes objected to its being counted and read the statute regarding mutilated votes.
Mr. Richardson took exceptions to the manner in which Mr. Goes let his voice drop in the middle of the sentence, conveying, he claimed, a wrong impression of the law. Considerable squabbling ensued. Mr. Benjamin voted not to count the bailot and Mr.
Launiere the other way. Mr. Emmons settled the dispute by voting with Mr.
Launiere, giving for his reason that the vote had evidently been torn in the machine.

KNEW ADAM GINSTERBLUM. A. A. Lord Tells

A. A. Lord, the Stocking street second-hand dealer, says of Adam Ginsterbium, who was found dead on Jacob Snitster's farm, in Alpine township, Sunday, that he was married to a woman by the name of Amela Wild, at No. 151 West Bridge street, about two years ago. They parted, and for a time the woman lived with another man, and is now living on Ottawa street. Mr. Lord says he does not know whether she married Ginsterblum or not, but they lived as man and wife.

a few weeks ago in the case against Alex. Innes in the United States court, Alex. Innes in the United States court, and also in the case of Ella R. Hembing vs. the City. Word was sent to Ginsterbium's brother in Westphalia as soon as the body was identified. No word had been received from the brother at 6 o'clock last night. The coroner will not hold a jury inquest.

POPULAR POLICEMAN R J. B. Johnson Will Be a Printer and Earn

J. B. Johnson, one of the best known members of the police force, has resigned to enter business for himself. Mr. Johnson has been on the force for many years, and for the past three or four years has been police court officer. He has always been considered a first-class man on the force and was one of those whose names were presented to the board of commissioners when a sergeant was to be appointed.

It is said Mr. Johnson will form a partnership with Hensen & Reynders, the Ionia street printing firm. Mr. Johnson handed in his resignation to the superintendent Saturday and was not on duty yesterday, so his resignation will take immediate effect.

QUESTION OF AMOUNT

Has Arisen in Adjusting the Late Factory

The committee of three appointed by the sdiasters of the various insurance companies in the matter of the Folding Chair & Table company's fire, find some perplexing points to decide. The company was paying premiums on but $25,000 worth of insurance, but claims that it should be reimbursed for $42,000 loss, as each policy written by the respective insurance companies states it to be a risk for a certain proportion of $42,000. The question, which is one of much interest to the insurance men of the city, is whether the factory company is entitled to recover losses for the total amount or for only the amount on which it paid premiums. companies in the matter of the Fold-

To my surprise he told me catarrh was the great my surprise he told me catarrh was the great aggravating factor of my attacks, and he was right, for since the first week's treatment I have been absolutely free from all symptoms of asthma. I cannot express the suffering I used to have, but now I can go out in any kind of weather and even walk to the office a mile away. My lungs are free and light and I am gaining fast in strength. It seems too good to be true and I am afraid I will wake up some morning and find it is all a dream. I up some morning and find it is all a dream. I should be giad to talk with anyone about my case and tell them of my experiences."
